Mr. Anonymous,

You may purchase good quality Eucalyptus seeds from IPEF (www.ipef.br), however, depending on the region to be planted, there is no guarantee of successful growth.

Eucalyptus trees are very sensitive (plants do not survive) to very cold weather and frosts, for this reason, it is quite important to select the most appropriate species to have some tolerance to the weather conditions. Even so, there is no 100% guarantee that they will resist even some occasional frost events.

USA Zone 6 is a region that I'm quite sure it is not very appropriate to plant any species of eucalyptus in commercial operation.

Anyhow, get in touch with IPEF to have some information about seeds and prices:
